27 JOINT CASE MANAGEMENT
STATEMENT

Pursuant to Civil Local Rule 16-9 and this Court's Standing Order, the parties jointly submit this Joint Case Management Statement. Counsel for Apple Inc. ("Apple"), Cisco Systems, Inc. ("Cisco"), Google LLC ("Google"), Intel Corporation ("Intel"), and Edwards Lifesciences Corporation and Edwards Lifesciences LLC (together, "Edwards") (collectively, "Plaintiffs") and counsel for Andrei Iancu, Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director, United States Patent and Trademark Office ("Defendant") met and conferred on November 19, 2020.

1. Jurisdiction and Service

Plaintiffs submit that this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' federal claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question). No issues exist regarding venue. All named parties have been served, and there are no unresolved issues relating to service of process.

2. Facts

a. Plaintiffs' Statement¹

Inter partes review ("IPR") was a centerpiece of Congress's effort to strengthen the U.S. patent system in 2011 through the Leahy-Smith America Invents Act ("AIA"). In passing the AIA, Congress recognized that existing procedures for challenging already-issued patents were often too slow and expensive. Congress accordingly created IPR to provide an efficient administrative alternative to litigation for "weed[ing] out bad patent claims" that never should have issued. Thryv, Inc. v. Click-To-Call Techs., LP, 140 S. Ct. 1367, 1374 (2020). To ensure that IPR fulfills its purpose as a superior alternative to litigation over patent validity, the AIA specifically contemplates that IPR will be available to determine the patentability of patent claims that are also the subject of pending patent infringement litigation.

The AIA establishes the framework governing the Director's decision whether to institute IPR. The statute prohibits the Director from instituting IPR "unless" he finds "a reasonable likelihood that the petitioner would prevail with respect to at least 1 of the claims challenged in the

¹ As is customary, Plaintiffs have used this section of the Case Management Statement to provide a brief description of the case and summary of their claims. In response to Defendant's footnote 2 below, Plaintiffs state that they do not agree that "Defendant's Statement" contains simply "facts" and not argument, as is clear, for example, from Defendant's pejorative description of Plaintiffs as "disappointed IPR petitioners."

1 petition,” 35 U.S.C. § 314(a), and, as relevant here, provides that an infringement defendant may 2 obtain IPR with regard to patent claims asserted in a pending patent-infringement lawsuit so long as 3 the IPR petition is filed within “1 year after the date on which the petitioner … is served with a 4 complaint alleging infringement of the patent,” § 315(b). The Director has delegated to the Patent 5 Trial and Appeal Board (“Board”) the authority to institute IPR. 37 C.F.R. § 42.4(a); see id. §§ 42.2, 6 42.108.

7 Beginning in 2018, the Board articulated a new standard, not reflected in the AIA or any 8 regulation, under which the Board may decline to institute IPR based on litigation over the validity of 9 the same patent claims—even if the petition was timely under § 315(b). In NHK Spring Co. v. Intrigue
 10 Plex Technologies, Inc., the Board declared that “the advanced state of … district court proceedings” 11 “weighs in favor of denying [IPR] under § 314(a).” No. IPR2018-00752, Paper 8, at 20 (P.T.A.B.
 12 Sept. 12, 2018) (Am. Compl. Ex. A). Subsequently, in Apple Inc. v. Fintiv, Inc., No. IPR2020-13 00019, Paper 11 (P.T.A.B. Mar. 20, 2020) (Am. Compl. Ex. B), the Board said it would “weigh” six 14 factors when deciding whether to institute under § 314(a) when parallel litigation is pending “as part 15 of a balanced assessment of all relevant circumstances of the case, including the merits,” to promote 16 “system efficiency, fairness, and patent quality.” Fintiv, Paper 11 at 5 (quotation marks omitted).

17 Pursuant to an internal operating procedure, the Director designated NHK and Fintiv 18 “precedential.” As a result, NHK and Fintiv are “binding” on the Board “in subsequent matters 19 involving similar facts or issues.” Patent Trial and Appeal Board, Standard Operating Procedure 2 20 (Rev. 10) (“SOP-2”), at 11 (Sept. 20, 2018). By designating the decisions as precedential, the 21 Director adopted them as a final rule (the “NHK-Fintiv rule”) that binds the Board and governs all 22 future IPR institution decisions. SOP-2 at 11. In doing so, the Director unlawfully constricted access 23 to IPR, and has forced Plaintiffs and other innovators accused of infringing patents that should never 24 have issued to incur the substantial, costs, delays, and burdens of litigation that Congress created IPR 25 to avoid. The NHK-Fintiv rule has been applied arbitrarily and inconsistently, and it has encouraged 26 strategic forum shopping by infringement plaintiffs.

27 The Board has applied the NHK-Fintiv rule to deny numerous IPR petitions (including many 28 filed by Plaintiffs)—even ones that were found by the Board to be likely to succeed on the merits and

1 otherwise met all the AIA's requirements. The rule thus significantly reduces the availability of IPR 2 precisely where Congress intended it to be available as an alternative to litigation.

3 The NHK-Fintiv rule violates the AIA and is arbitrary and capricious. The rule is also 4 procedurally invalid because it was issued without notice-and-comment rulemaking. Given the 5 purely legal issues in this case, no discovery is needed to confirm the rule's unlawfulness. The Court 6 should declare the rule unlawful and set it aside, and permanently enjoin the Director, and through 7 him the Board, from applying the rule or its non-statutory factors to deny IPR.

8 b. Defendant's Statement²

9 As the Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Defendant Andrei 10 Iancu is "responsible for providing policy direction and management supervision for the 11 Office," 35 U.S.C. § 3(a)(2)(A), and has "the authority to govern the conduct of proceedings 12 in the Office," 35 U.S.C. § 2(b)(2)(A). Pursuant to that authority, Defendant adopted as 13 precedential two opinions of the Patent Trial and Appeal Board that considered the timing of 14 parallel district court proceedings when deciding whether to exercise the Director's 15 unreviewable discretion under 35 U.S.C. § 314(a) to decide whether to institute inter partes 16 review ("IPR") proceedings. The latter of those opinions contained a non-exhaustive, non-17 dispositive set of factors—the "Fintiv factors"—to consider when deciding whether to 18 institute IPR proceedings. Those factors are geared toward ensuring that IPR proceedings are 19 an efficient process for fairly resolving patent claim validity.

20 Plaintiffs are disappointed IPR petitioners who have sued under the Administrative 21 Procedure Act ("APA") to set aside the Fintiv factors and enjoin their continued use, 22 contending they are contrary to law, improperly enacted, and arbitrary and capricious.
 23 Defendant moved to dismiss Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint for lack of standing and as 25 2 Counsel for Defendant notified Plaintiffs' counsel before this filing was finalized that 26 Defendant objects to Plaintiffs' use of this filing to pass off argument as fact. Plaintiff refused to 27 modify its statements. Defendant will not address the accuracy or merits of Plaintiffs' statements, as 28 they are not entitled to a response from Defendant or to the Court's consideration via this filing.

 Nothing herein is a concession to any fact, argument, claim, or characterization by Plaintiffs in the non-joint portions of this brief. Defendant will respond to claims and arguments only in Plaintiffs' moving papers, as contemplated by the Local Rules and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

1 otherwise non-justiciable under the APA. The same day, Plaintiffs filed a motion for 2 summary judgment. As noted below, Defendant moved to stay briefing on, and consideration 3 of, Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment because the motion is premature.

4 3. Legal Issues

5 a. Plaintiffs' Statement

6 The legal issues to be decided are:

- 7 • Whether the NHK-Fintiv rule exceeds the Director's statutory authority and violates 8 the Leahy-Smith America Invents Act ("AIA"), 35 U.S.C. §§ 311-319, and the 9 Administrative Procedure Act ("APA"), 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A), (C); 10 • Whether the NHK-Fintiv rule is arbitrary and capricious and an abuse of discretion in 11 violation of the APA, 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A); and 12 • Whether the Director exceeded his authority and violated the AIA, 35 U.S.C.
13 §§ 2(b)(2), 316(a), and the APA, 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(D), by adopting the NHK-Fintiv 14 rule without notice-and-comment rulemaking.

15 b. Defendant's Statement

- 16 • Whether Plaintiffs have standing to challenge an agency policy when the policy does 17 not cause Plaintiffs a concrete injury and Plaintiffs' speculative injuries would not be 18 redressed by the relief Plaintiffs seek.
- 19 • Whether the America Invents Act of 2011 displaces any cause of action under the 20 Administrative Procedure Act to challenge the considerations upon which the Director 21 of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office relies in exercising his unreviewable 22 discretion to deny inter partes review.
- 23 • Whether the considerations an agency uses to reach a decision committed to agency 24 discretion by law are similarly committed to agency discretion and therefore not 25 subject to judicial review under the Administrative Procedure Act.
- 26 • Whether Defendant adopting non-dispositive, non-exhaustive factors to guide the 27 discretionary decision whether to institute inter partes review is a final agency action

1 ripe for review under the Administrative Procedure Act when those factors have no 2 immediate impact on outside parties' substantive rights.

- 3 • If Plaintiffs' claims are justiciable, whether the AIA prohibits the Director from 4 considering parallel district court proceedings when exercising his unreviewable 5 discretion under 35 U.S.C. § 314(a) to deny petitions for inter partes review.
- 6 • If Plaintiffs' claims are justiciable, whether the Director could adopt the Fintiv factors 7 without undertaking notice-and-comment rulemaking.
- 8 • If Plaintiffs' claims are justiciable, whether the adopting the Fintiv factors was 9 arbitrary, capricious, or an abuse of discretion.

10 4. Motions

11 Five motions are currently pending: (1) a motion to intervene filed by US Inventor, 360
 12 Heros, Inc., Larry Golden, World Source Enterprises, LLC ("WSE"), Dareltech LLC, Tinnus
 13 Enterprises, LLC, Clearplay, Inc., and E-Watch, Inc. (collectively, "Proposed Intervenors"), Dkt. 28; 14 (2) an application for a TRO and motion for a preliminary injunction filed by US Inventor and World
 15 Source Enterprises, LLC, Dkt. 34; (3) Defendant's motion to dismiss, Dkt. 64; (4) Plaintiffs' motion 16 for summary judgment, Dkt. 65; and (5) Defendant's motion for administrative relief to stay 17 consideration of Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment, Dkt. 66.

18 Proposed Intervenors' motion to intervene and US Inventor and WSE's application for a TRO 19 and motion for a preliminary injunction are fully briefed, and a hearing on these motions is scheduled 20 for January 14, 2021. Briefing for Defendant's motion to dismiss and Plaintiffs' motion for summary 21 judgment is scheduled to be completed on December 14, 2020, and a hearing on both motions is 22 scheduled for March 11, 2021. Briefing on Defendant's motion for administrative relief will be 23 complete on December 1, 2020.

24 5. Amendment of Pleadings

25 On November 9, 2020, Plaintiffs filed an amended complaint adding as plaintiffs Edwards 26 Lifesciences Corporation and Edwards Lifesciences LLC. Dkt. 54.

27 6. Evidence Preservation

28 a. Joint Statement

1 The parties agree that because the claims arise under the Administrative Procedure Act, there 2 is no need to collect evidence, make disclosures, or conduct discovery.

3 b. Plaintiffs' Statement

4 The two precedential Board decisions at issue—NHK and Fintiv—are the sufficient
 5 administrative record to resolve Plaintiffs' claims, and both were attached to the complaint. In 6 addition, there are no adjudicative facts to be determined. During the parties' meet and confer,
 7 counsel for Plaintiffs asked counsel for Defendant to identify any specific additional relevant
 8 administrative record documents Defendant contends to exist beyond the precedential Board
 9 decisions in NHK and Fintiv; Defendant has not identified anything.

10 c. Defendant's Statement³

11 If the Court determines that it has jurisdiction to consider any of Plaintiffs' Administrative 12 Procedure Act claims, Defendant will at that time determine what administrative record, if any, is 13 necessary to defend that merits of the surviving claim(s). Any necessary administrative record will 14 be prepared in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act following resolution of 15 Defendant's motion to dismiss.

16 7. Disclosures

17 a. Joint Statement

18 The parties stipulate that Initial Disclosures pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A) are 19 unnecessary. Because the claims arise under the Administrative Procedure Act, there is no need to 20 make disclosures or conduct discovery.

21 b. Plaintiffs' Statement

22 The two precedential Board decisions at issue—NHK and Fintiv—are the sufficient 23 administrative record to resolve Plaintiffs' claims, and both were attached to the complaint. In 24 addition, there are no adjudicative facts to be determined. During the parties' meet and confer,

25
 26 ³ Defendant objects to Plaintiffs' statements in sections 6 and 8 of this filing to the extent 27 Plaintiffs suggest either (a) that Defendant was obligated to identify the possible content of an 28 administrative record compiled in response to Plaintiffs' claims before the Court has determined whether it has jurisdiction to consider those claims or (b) that Defendant reserving its rights on this issue until the Court's ruling is somehow disingenuous.

1 counsel for Plaintiffs asked counsel for Defendant to identify any specific additional relevant
2 administrative record documents Defendant contends to exist beyond the precedential Board
3 decisions in NHK and Fintiv; Defendant has not identified anything.

4 8. Discovery

5 a. Plaintiffs' Statement

6 The two precedential Board decisions at issue—NHK and Fintiv—are the sufficient
7 administrative record to resolve Plaintiffs' claims, and both were attached to the complaint. In 8 addition, there are no adjudicative facts to be determined. During the parties' meet and confer,
9 counsel for Plaintiffs asked counsel for Defendant to identify any specific additional relevant
10 administrative record documents Defendant contends to exist beyond the precedential Board
11 decisions in NHK and Fintiv; Defendant has not identified anything.

12 b. Defendant's Statement

13 If the Court determines that it has jurisdiction to consider any of Plaintiffs' Administrative 14 Procedure Act claims, Defendant will at that time determine what administrative record, if any, is 15 necessary to defend that merits of the surviving claim(s). Any necessary administrative record will 16 be prepared in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act following resolution of 17 Defendant's motion to dismiss.

18 9. Class Actions

19 This is not a class action.

20 10. Related Cases

21 The parties are not aware of any related cases or proceedings pending before another judge of 22 this court, or before another court or administrative body.

23 11. Relief

24 Plaintiffs ask the Court to grant the following requests for relief:

- 25 • Declare that the NHK-Fintiv rule is unlawful;
26 • Set aside the NHK-Fintiv rule;

- 1 • Permanently enjoin Defendant, and his officers, agents, employees, assigns, and all 2 persons acting in concert or participating with him from relying on the NHK-Fintiv 3 rule or the non-statutory factors it incorporates to deny institution of IPR;
- 4 • Award Plaintiffs their costs and attorney's fees and expenses as allowed by law; and 5 • Provide such other and further relief as the Court deems appropriate.

6 12. Settlement and ADR

7 The parties have met and conferred regarding Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR"). The 8 parties agree that this case is not amenable to resolution through ADR.

9 13. Consent to Magistrate Judge for All Purposes

10 The parties do not consent to having a magistrate judge conduct any proceedings, including 11 trial and summary judgment.

12 14. Other References

13 The parties do not believe this case is suitable for reference to binding arbitration, a special 14 master, or the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

15 15. Narrowing of Issues

16 The parties do not believe that there are any significant issues that can be narrowed by 17 agreement at this time.

18 16. Expedited Trial Procedure

19 This is not the type of case that can be handled under the Expedited Trial Procedure of 20 General Order No. 64 Attachment A.

21 17. Scheduling

22 a. Plaintiffs' Statement

23 Judicial economy would be served by considering and ruling on the two dispositive 24 motions—Defendants' motion to dismiss and Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment—as well as 25 Proposed Intervenors' two motions at the same time rather than proceeding piecemeal. The issues 26 presented in these four motions are highly intertwined. Resolving them will require the Court to 27 determine the nature and extent of the Director's authority under the same statutory provisions.

1 Accordingly, if the Court is amenable to hearing these four motions on January 14, 2021, 2 Plaintiffs are prepared to argue Defendant's motion to dismiss and Plaintiffs' motion for summary
 3 judgment on that date. In the alternative, if the Court does not wish to hear the dispositive motions 4 on that date, Plaintiffs propose that the Court continue the hearing on Proposed Intervenors' two 5 motions to March 11, 2021, or some other date that will permit the Court to consider those motions at 6 the same time as Defendant's motion to dismiss and Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment.

7 Further, it is Defendant, not Plaintiffs, that seeks to upset the normal progression of this 8 litigation. Where justiciability issues are intertwined with the merits of a claim, it is inefficient and 9 prejudicial to the plaintiff's claims to resolve a motion to dismiss separately from consideration of the 10 merits. For that reason, it is typical in Administrative Procedure Act cases for courts to consider 11 issues of justiciability and jurisdiction alongside the merits. See, e.g., City & Cty. of San Francisco v.
 12 Azar, 411 F. Supp. 3d 1001, 1005 (N.D. Cal. 2019), appeal dismissed, No. 20-15398, 2020 WL 13 3053625 (9th Cir. June 1, 2020); Islam v. Heinauer, 32 F. Supp. 3d 1063 (N.D. Cal. 2014); Allen v.
 14 United States, 871 F. Supp. 2d 982, 987 (N.D. Cal. 2012); McCravy v. Gutierrez, 528 F. Supp. 2d 15 995, 997 (N.D. Cal. 2007). Given the interrelationship of the issues, it would in fact be more 16 efficient to brief and consider the two dispositive motions concurrently. Indeed, Defendant's motion 17 to dismiss assumes the correctness of Defendant's position on the merits of Plaintiffs' claims, while 18 mischaracterizing the relief Plaintiffs seek; resolving the motion to dismiss without full and fair 19 consideration of Plaintiffs' summary judgment briefing thus would be not only inefficient, but also 20 unfair and prejudicial to Plaintiffs. Defendant's assertion that the Court would be "potentially 21 confus[ed]" by considering all motions at once disregards the thoroughly intertwined nature of the 22 arguments and plainly underestimates the capability and experience of this Court. Additionally, any 23 delay in consideration of Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment will greatly prejudice Plaintiffs 24 while the PTO continues to unlawfully deny them the opportunity to obtain the administrative review 25 of dubious patents that Congress sought to provide.

26 b. Defendant's Statement

27 This case should proceed in the ordinary course. Plaintiffs are not entitled to bypass the 28 Court's consideration of Defendant's motion to dismiss Plaintiffs' Administrative Procedure Act

1 claims as non-justiciable. Rather, the Court should resolve whether Plaintiffs' claims are even 2 appropriate for consideration on the merits before requiring Defendant to brief the merits. Plaintiffs 3 are similarly not entitled to hijack the hearing on US Inventor and World Source Enterprises' motion 4 for a preliminary injunction. The claims underlying that motion are only somewhat related to 5 Plaintiffs' claims. Rather, Proposed Intervenors seek to assert additional claims, rely on additional 6 legal theories, and are pursuing additional relief. It would be unnecessarily burdensome to require 7 Defendant's counsel to prepare to argue two additional substantive motions (i.e., Defendant's motion 8 to dismiss and Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment) in the same hearing, as well as potentially 9 confusing to the Court. Defendant's position is set forth more fully in his motion for administrative 10 relief, Dkt. 66.

18. Trial

12 The parties agree that this case does not require a jury trial and can be resolved by dispositive 13 motions.

19. Disclosure of Non-Party Interested Entities or Persons

15 Plaintiffs have filed Certifications of Interested Persons or Entities pursuant to Civil Local 16 Rule 3-16. With respect to persons, firms, partnerships, corporations (including parent corporations) 17 or other entities that have either (1) a financial interest in the subject matter in controversy or in a 18 party to the proceeding or (2) any other kind of interest that could be substantially affected by the 19 outcome of the proceeding, the parties report as follows:

- 20 • Apple: No interest to report.
- 21 • Cisco: No interest to report.
- 22 • Google: (1) Google LLC; (2) XXVI Holdings Inc., holding company of Google LLC; and (3) Alphabet Inc., holding company of XXVI Holdings Inc.
- 23 • Intel: No interest to report.
- 24 • Edwards Lifesciences Corporation: No interest to report.
- 25 • Edwards Lifesciences LLC: No interest to report.

27 The parties note that Proposed Intervenors have moved to intervene in this action.

28 20. Professional Conduct
